Fourth of July, officially speaking, began at 4 o'clock this morning. Unofficially, which in this case means from the standpoint of the small boy, and a few large ones, the Fourth began any time yesterday forenoon, straggled along at intervals during the afternoon, picked up more courage in the early evening and by nidnight was a full grown, spread eagle, noisy sort of affair which sent many to a sleepless bed. In their exuberance over an event which occurred a few hundred years before their fathers were born, local members of the great clan of Young America smashed city ordinances and proclamations to small bits.

They didn't do a thing but explode ordinances in general and section 209 in particular, they kept the police force on the jump trying to enforce the law and they id a number of other things, but first of all they kept up the good old precedent of a noisy "day before," a precedent which laukhs at "sane and sober" scoffers.

RUSSIA SENDING PLENIPOTENTIARIES TO WASHINGTON IN PERFECT GOOD FAITH

St. Petersburg, July 3.—That Emperor Nicholas is sending Russia's plenipotentiaries to Washington in perfect good faith is demonstrated, not only by the fact of his clothing them with full powers to negotiate and conclude a treaty, but in his appointing several high officials, it, it is believed, who are specialists in various branches of the subjects connected with the negotiations, as advisers of the Russian plenipotentiaries. In this way the delay incident to referring peace propositions back to St. Petersburg for the consideration of the various ministries, which always cause a loss of much time in Russian diplomacy, will be avoided. Japan is likely also to pursue a similar plan.

The retirement of War Minister Sakharoff marks the final overthrow of the war party.

At the foreign ministry it was stated that if, a treaty is signed by the plenipotentiaries at Washington it would be referred to their respective.

In the event of the refusal of the mutineers to submit to those conditions or of hostile action against the town, Roumanian warships were ordered to the Russian hattleship Kniaz Petem-kine, where difference of opinion exist between the leaders, some of whom advocate landing in Roumania while others are proposing to return to Russia and join the other mutinous ships. The prefect of Kustenji permitted a delegation of the mutineers to enter the town and purchase provisions.

Openly Rejoiced.

The sailors report that the Black Sea fleet not only did not try to capture the Kniaz Potemkine, but that the crews of the ships openly rejoiced when the rebel battleship left Odessa. The crew of the Russian gunboat Psezouape now at Kustenji met some of the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine ashore and fraternized with them, the sailors embracing one another.

The Kniaz Potemkine is accompanied by a Russian torpedo boat.

Troops are being concentrated at Kustenji to meet eventualities and the cabinet ministers are proceeding there today to deal with the situation.

Major Negru, the military commandant at Kustenji, reports that he was received on board the Kniaz Potemkine by an engineer cadet attended by a numerous guard. This was again positively refused by the captain of the port, whereupon the Russian torpedo boat attempted to enter the port, but on being fired on by the Elizabetha, and evidently awed by the firm stand taken by the authorities, she decided to retire.

A sailor from the Kniaz Potemkine who came ashore here today with his comrades to negotiate with the prefect, slipped away and escaped to the town. He appeared to be greatly excited and exhausted, and reported that the battleship's provisions were completely slipped away and escaped to the town. Mutinous Crew.

Cronstadt, July 3.—The crew of the Russian cruiser Minine refused to put to sea with the other vessels of the active squadron, alleging that the age and bad condition of the Minine prevented her participation in the gun maneuvers. Baldness Cured by Destroying the Par-asite Germ That Causes It. asite Germ That Causes It.

Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff; and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff, falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new, scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ.
